The preliminary evaluation of the candidates will be done in accordance with criteria and parameters recognised also at international level and identified in Ministerial Decree No. 243 of 25 May 2011, set out below.

1. Evaluation of Qualifications and Curriculum

The judging commission will make a reasoned assessment followed by a comparative evaluation – referring to the specific competition area and a possible profile defined solely through indicating one or more academic disciplines – of the curriculum and of the following qualifications, duly documented, of the candidates:

a) research doctorate or equivalent, awarded in Italy or abroad;

The evaluation of each qualification specified in this point 1. is made considering specifically the significance that it has regarding the quality and quantity of the research activities carried out by the single candidate.

2. Evaluation of Academic Output

In making the preliminary evaluation of the candidates the judging commission takes into account solely publications or texts accepted for publication in accordance with the rules in force and essays included in collective works and articles published in electronic and print journals except for internal notes or departmental reports. Doctoral theses or equivalent qualifications are taken into account even if they do not meet the conditions set out in this paragraph.
The judging commission makes the comparative evaluation of the publications referred to in the preceding paragraph on the basis of the following criteria:

a) originality, innovativeness, methodological rigour and relevance of each academic publication;

b) consistency of each publication with the competition area that the selection procedure concerns and with a possible profile defined solely through indicating one or more academic disciplines, or with connected interdisciplinary subjects;

c) academic importance of the editorial positioning of each publication and its dissemination within the academic community;

d) analytical determination, including on the basis of criteria recognised in the relevant international academic community, of the individual contribution of the candidate in the case of participation in a collaborative work.

The judging commission will also assess the amount of the candidate's overall academic output, its intensity and and its continuity over time except for adequately documented periods of involuntary absence from research activities, especially to attend to parental duties.

Within the context of the competition areas indicated by the University, in evaluating publications the commission will rely on the following indicators as at the deadline for submitting applications:

1. total number of citations;
2. average number of citations per publication;
3. total "impact factor" (if possible);
4. average "impact factor" per publication (if possible);
5. combinations of the above parameters suited to assessing the impact of the candidate's academic output (Hirsch index or similar).

The above indicators will be assessed referring to the Google Scholar database (through Publish or Perish), without prejudice to the use of additional databases details of which will be timely posted on the University's website.

On the basis of the preliminary evaluation of the candidates expressed through a reasoned and detailed judgment on qualifications, curriculum and academic output, including doctoral thesis (if any), the commission will proceed to admit the most deserving candidates – a number ranging between 10% and 20% of the total and in any case no fewer than six individuals – to the public discussion of qualifications and academic output with the commission. All candidates will be admitted to the discussion should their number be six or fewer.

The candidates admitted to the public discussion will not be remunerated or reimbursed their expenses.

The commission will summon, giving at least five calendar days notice, those admitted to the public discussion of qualifications and publications following which it will assign points to the qualifications and publications. At the same time the commission may check adequate knowledge of the English language through an oral test.

At the end of the proceedings the commission will come to an overall judgment on each candidate and will compile a ranking to be be sent to the Department Board. The commission will conclude its work within four months after its appointment. The Rector may extend once and by two months at most the deadline for the conclusion of the procedure for stated reasons given by the commission chairperson.

Taking account of the examining commission's judgment, teaching needs and the profile and functions specified in the announcement, the Department Board will establish, by reasoned and favourable vote of the absolute majority of first and second level professors, a ranking to be sent to the Rector for subsequent forwarding to the Executive Committee concerning the designation of the winner. The Department Board may decide not to designate the winner, specifying why the professional profiles of the candidates do not meet its teaching and academic needs.

The winning candidate will be given detailed information on the University's offer, including the economic terms proposed. At the same time that candidate will be informed of the deadline by which he or she must communicate acceptance of the offer.
